

ANOTHER SCHOOL TERM STARTS—Harrisburg schools joined with many other schools across the nation today in getting the 1956-57 term underway. There was no big rush at the Harrisburg Junior high school this morning, with only seventh graders in attendance and the eighth grade students scheduled to be in school this afternoon. The new Junior high school pupils came along in small groups and most of them hurried right into the building, apparently anxious to get a look at their new school home. However, this group of boys, willing but not eager, engaged in a talkfest near the front of the building until the last bell sounded. This is the first year the complete Junior high school building was available for use. Just before the new addition was completed the old building was destroyed by fire Jan. 1, 1955 but it is now ready for use. Last year Junior high students had classes in the grade school buildings. Tommy Owen, 12, is Critically Burned

Pours Gasoline By Mistake on Rubbish Blaze

He and Brother, Wendell Ray, Rushed to Hospital

A 12-year-old Gaskins City youth was burned critically and his brother suffered less serious burns at noon Sunday when gasoline, mistaken for kerosene, was poured on a rubbish fire back of their home.

In Welborn Memorial hospital at Evansville is Tommy Owen, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Owen of 6 National street. His physician here said that the lad was practically burned all over.

He and his brother, Wendell Ray, 13, were rushed to Harrisburg hospital following the incident and were treated there for burns. Wendell Ray, who suffered burns on the face, both arms and one leg, was taken home following treatment and his family believed he will be able to start in school next week.

Tommy, however, was moved to the Evansville hospital yesterday in an ambulance from the Turner funeral home. A member of his family this morning said that last night he was believed to be showing improvement.

The family said the boys had returned home from Sunday school and had gone to the rear of the place to do some burning. They poured gasoline, which they thought was kerosene, on the blaze and flames enveloped Tommy.

Tommy started running, his clothing afire, and was pulled down by his brother. Reports were that Wendell's burns on his face and arms were received when he grabbed Tommy to keep him from running.

Brother of Frank Chamness Dies at Fort Worth, Texas

Brose Chamness, 85, brother of Frank Chamness of this city, died Saturday night in his sleep at his home in Fort Worth, Texas.

The body is being returned to Marion, former home of Mr. Chamness, and will lie in state at the Mitchell funeral home there.

Services will be held at the funeral home Wednesday at 10 a. m. and burial will be in the Creal Springs cemetery with Masonic rites.

He leaves his wife, Maud; a son, Robert, Fort Worth, Texas; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Shertz, Harlingen, Texas, and Mrs. John Luchow, Cape Girardeau, Mo., and one brother, Frank Chamness, who is now the last survivor of a large family.

Rolla Matheney, 73, Hardin Co. Clerk, Dies at Rosiclare

Rolla Matheney, 73, well-known educator and public official in southern Illinois, died early Monday morning at the Rosiclare hospital.

At the time of his death Mr. Matheney was serving as county clerk of Hardin county, a position he had held for nine years. He previously served five years as county assessor and treasurer.

He was a graduate of Southern Illinois Normal University and received his Master of Arts degree from the University of Illinois.

For over 29 years he taught school in Illinois. Twelve of these years were spent as principal of Bismark high school, Bismark, Ill. He was a member of the National Education association, State Historical society, Lions clubs and A. F. and A. M.

Funeral services were held today at the Cave-in-Rock Methodist church. Rev. Carl Watkins officiated and burial was in the Masonic cemetery at Cave-in-Rock.

Survivors include his wife, Nona; two brothers, Frank Matheney, Indianapolis, Ind., and Edwin of Tulsa, Okla.; and a sister, Ruth Schwaden Stecker, Eldrid, Ill.

Mr. Matheney was a cousin of Mrs. J. O. Wells of Harrisburg.

Coed Suicides in Plunge from Plane After Struggle with Pilot

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UP)—Searchers combed rugged mountain terrain today for the body of a pretty and cheerful coed who mysteriously plunged 2,500 feet to her death from an airplane.

Authorities called the death of Flora Elizabeth Anderson, 21, a "bizarre and unexplainable" suicide. Miss Anderson, a graduate political science student at the University of California, had thrown herself from the light airplane after a desperate struggle with the pilot who tried to restrain her.

The pilot, Stanley Gordon, 28, of Belvedere, Calif., landed the rented Aerona Chief plane here Monday and told police Miss Anderson had jumped from the plane after a silent struggle with him.

Gordon said he had rented the plane at the San Rafael Airport to take Miss Anderson on a flying date to Stinson Beach, a resort

7 Dumped in Crab Orchard Lake in Boating Accident

MARION, Ill. (UP)—Reckless boating charges will be filed against a 21-year-old Belleville man after a Sunday accident at Crab Orchard Lake in which seven persons were dumped into the water after a 21-foot cabin cruiser sank.

All the occupants of the cruiser, including three children, escaped injury and were picked up by passing boaters. The cruiser went down about 300 feet from shore.

Larry Sheffield, a park ranger for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, said the charges will be filed against Charles Petri who was piloting a smaller craft that rammed the cruiser. Petri told the ranger that he didn't see the cruiser which was owned by Troy Vaughn, Carbondale.

Vaughn is planning salvage operations to recover the cruiser from the 20-foot bottom.

Mt. Vernon Boy Dies of Burns

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (UP)—Six-year-old Challis Powell, Mount Vernon, died early today of burns received when a fire swept through the frame home of his parents 28 hours earlier.

A brother, Robert Elwood, was also burned but is now improved. Three other children and their mother escaped injury. The father, Robert Powell, 43, said an electrical connection may have caused the blaze. The family was asleep when the fire broke out.

Authorities say the family lost all its possessions in the blaze.

Death Takes Mrs. Martin G. Baker, Formerly of Eldorado

Mrs. Maud Baker, wife of Martin G. Baker, died at 11:30 p. m. yesterday in the Manteno state hospital where she was employed. Death was due to pneumonia.

She formerly resided in Eldorado, the daughter of the late George and Emma Oglesby.

She leaves her husband, Martin, a son, Clarence Yates, Metropolis, and two brothers, Dick Oglesby, Hammond, Ind., and Rev. Graham Oglesby, Thomasville, Ga.

The body is being returned to the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado and friends may call after 7 p. m. today. Funeral plans are incomplete.

Former Mayor Dies at Marion

MARION, Ill. (UP)—Earl B. Jackson, 81, former mayor of Marion, died today of a heart attack. Jackson, who operated an insurance business, was a former president of Group 10, Illinois Bankers Assn.

Funeral services will be held Thursday.

Auto Wiring Burns

The fire department was called to the Cornick service station on Route 45 at 6:30 p. m. Sunday because a short caused wiring to burn in an auto belonging to H. L. Douthitt of Eldorado. Damage was confined to the wiring.

588 Holiday Deaths

430 in Traffic
Accidents; 93
Persons Drown

CHICAGO (UP)—The traffic death rate took a turn for the better toward the close of the Labor Day holiday and safety experts estimated at least 40 lives were saved.

The United Press counted 430 traffic deaths from 6 p. m. last Friday to midnight Monday. In addition, 93 persons drowned, 7 were killed in plane crashes and 58 in miscellaneous accidents for an overall holiday total of 588.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, said the traffic death rate "took a turn for the better at noon on Labor Day and the improvement continued right on through to the end of the holiday."

"It meant a difference of at least 40 lives in the final toll," he said.

Dearborn said the saving could be attributed to "stepped up traffic law enforcement on state and local levels throughout the nation, and to the splendid job done by the press, radio and television in alerting and constantly reminding the public of the extra holiday dangers and how to meet them."

Demos Meet to Name Paschen Replacement

Mayor Daley Holds Vote Power to Select Candidate

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP)—The Democratic State Central Committee met today to name a replacement for Cook County Treasurer Herbert C. Paschen who withdrew under fire as a candidate for governor last week.

The meeting was set for 2 p. m. CST, and most of the 25 committee members, including Chicago's 12 representatives, were not scheduled to arrive until shortly before then.

Paschen withdrew from the race last week in the face of investigations into a $29,000 employees' welfare fund in the treasurer's office.

Each committee member was to cast a vote equal to the Democratic vote in his congressional district in the 1954 primary election. Thus the 12 Cook County members of the committee, led by Chairman Mayor Richard J. Daley, where big Democratic votes are cast, held the power of decision.

Daley met with his top lieutenants in the Cook County party Monday, but still gave no hint of who might get the nod from the organization. Earlier Daley met with presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson to discuss possible candidates.

Most prominently mentioned here and in Chicago as contenders for the nomination were Stephen A. Mitchell, a close friend of Stevenson and former Democratic national chairman, Cook County Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman, and Chicago City Treasurer Morris B. Sachs who was defeated by Paschen in the April primary.

Other names which cropped up in the Daley meeting Monday were State Supreme Court Justice Walter V. Schaefer, who has expressed reluctance to run, Fred Hoehler, public welfare director in Stevenson's administration as governor, Michael J. Howlett, present candidate for state auditor, and Chicago City Housing Coordinator James C. Downs.

Among the downstaters, Committeeman J. Paul Madison, of Table Grove, said he would nominate John E. Cassidy, Peoria, former attorney general, and Fred Whitten, committeeman from Decatur, said he would back his home townsman Harold Pogue, a former University of Illinois trustee.

Motorist Hurt In Crash on 45

There were no highway fatalities reported in Saline county during the Labor Day holiday but one motorist from Michigan driving through the county received critical injuries in an auto-truck crash on Route 45 a half mile south of Carrier Mills around 4 p. m. Saturday.

He was Elvis B. Hicks of 8103 Manila street, Detroit. Mr. Hicks, suffering from severe chest injuries, compound fractures of both legs and a broken arm, was treated at the Harrisburg hospital, then moved to Welborn Memorial hospital in Evansville.

State Policeman Guthrie Alexander said that the Hicks auto was demolished and that damage to the trailer of a semi-trailer truck from New Burnside, which figured in the crash, also was practically a total loss.

Alexander said his investigation showed that the semi-trailer was driven by Richard Rual Tanner of New Burnside, that Tanner was driving empty, en route from New Burnside to the Roy Cozart farm to pick up a load of apples.

After he had rounded a curve, Tanner said, he saw the automobile coming toward him in the truck's lane of traffic. The crash resulted with the auto first hitting the left front side of the cab, then sliding under the trailer and crashing into a rear axle.

Alexander said Hicks apparently had fallen asleep at the wheel. There were no passengers in his auto.

Tanner was not injured.

Republicans, Democrats Woo Votes of Union Members on Labor Day

By United Press

The votes of more than 15 million union members were wooed Labor Day by Democrats and Republicans.

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell gave a report issued by President Eisenhower. He reviewed the "progress of working men and women" under the Eisenhower administration and listed seven gains, including an increase of the minimum wage to $1 an hour and extension of unemployment insurance.

Adlai E. Stevenson addressed a crowd of 40,000 at Detroit in the first major speech of his campaign as the Democratic presidential candidate. He denounced the GOP administration for "blindness" and an "unsympathetic attitude" toward the nation's poor and jobless.

Aiming at what he viewed as soft spots in the employment picture of prosperous times under the Republicans, Stevenson condemned the "ugly patches of poverty and insecurity which still deny dignity, even decency, to the lives of almost one-fifth of all American families."

Labor officials took pride in the number of working men now in unions, and took the occasion to expound the aims of labor.

Meany Wants "More"

AFL-CIO President George Meany, in a radio address, summed up what labor wanted and what labor sought in a single word — "More."

But he also said a gain for labor was a gain for the entire economy.

Meany criticized the GOP administration in the field of foreign policy. He said he saw danger in following "some naive spokesmen on foreign affairs" who urged a "more flexible" approach to the friendly gestures of Russia.

United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther, however, gave a blistering attack on the Eisenhower administration. He branded the reign of the GOP as the "crabwise crusade of conservatism's rear-guard" and called attention to what he termed the "mistakes and drift of the past four years."

Reuther also warned about "give away economics" and unemployment not reflected in "statistical optimism."

Man Must Act on God's Principles, Sen. Jones Says in Labor Day Talk

State Senator Glen O. Jones, delivering the Labor Day address at the annual Saline county observance at the fairgrounds here Monday, declared that "we can survive only when we act on the principles that God set for the world to live by."

Senator Jones' theme was in stilling and keeping a spirit of brotherly love at all times, saying that "this is what will save us."

He told of the threats of war and the threats of the atomic bomb, but stated "no atomic bomb will explode unless it is set off by man."

After paying tribute to laboring people, "who have made this country great," he said "this country of ours just didn't happen; men have fought civil as well as military battles to bring us to where we are today."

He also said there is no dignity as great as having worked and done a good job, having made a good product, and added:

"It's a profound truth that all we have had or ever will have has been produced by labor."

He told of the advancements of labor; and the advancements of the country in its Social Security and assistance programs "which are a product of the teachings of Jesus Christ, who told us to love our neighbor."

He said he hoped for the time when everyone may hope to live to a ripe old age without knowing fear and want "which my father and your father knew so well."

He declared "there will be obstacles to arrive at this; there will be those who will pronounce judgment and doom. But just remember—everything we've gained had these same problems and prophecies."

Preaching, Singing

A tremendous crowd which jammed the 3,000-seat grandstand, with hundreds more forced to stand, was present last night to hear preaching and gospel singing. The singing featured two nationally known groups, the Blackwood Brothers and the Spears Family, and these two were augmented by the fine Saline county quartet, the Golden Key group.

Rush Troops to Towns During Demonstrations

Racial Trouble Reported Easing at Fort Worth, Texas

CLINTON, Tenn. (UP)—Negro pupils returned today to an integrated high school with National Guardsmen watching from a close vantage point for a breakout of fresh racial violence.

Only the jeers of a group of white boys greeted the nine Negroes who entered the school through a side door for their second week under the new integrated system. Three Negroes were absent.

Armed guardsmen and state troopers were rushed into Clinton and to nearby Oliver Springs during the weekend to put down wild demonstrations over admission of the Negroes to Clinton high school. A Negro shot a white man at Oliver Springs, 20 miles from here.

A public address system was set up this morning near the school in event Adj. Gen. Joe Henry of the state troops should need to go on the air to encourage peace. But it wasn't needed.

Attendance is Down

Only half the usual crowd of 800 pupils was present today. School buses that ordinarily would be jammed arrived with four or five passengers.

Negro pupils came in private cars as they did all last week. Clinton and Oliver Springs were not alone in the South with racial troubles today.

In Mansfield, Tex., Gov. Allan Shivers sent two Texas Rangers to Mansfield High School to prevent violence if three Negroes make another attempt to enroll. The three Negro students, all boys, were frightened away last week by a mob of 400 angry white persons who surrounded the school.

Clifford L. Davis, attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Fort Worth had applied for registration for the students by telegram. School Superintendent R. L. Huffman refused to accept the telegraphed application and said the Negroes would have to appear personally.

Fort Worth Trouble Eases

Davis said the Negro students might try to attend today if the crowd isn't there. "If the crowd is there, it might not be reasonable for them to try to enter," he said.

Racial trouble in Fort Worth, 18 miles to the northwest, appeared to have eased today with the re-

School Crossing Flasher Signals Now in Operation

Chief of Police Ross Lane today reminded that the school crossing flasher signals are in operation today, the first day of school.

These flashers are at West Poplar and Granger, East Poplar and Skaggs and at Granger and Sloan. Lane pointed out that the flashers should move on through the intersections when the lights are not flashing, but when they are the motorists must stop, and proceed with caution when the crossing is clear.

He urged motorists to show particular caution on all streets during the morning, noon and late afternoon hours when school children are crossing the streets.

Cynical Brutality

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

One must suspect that the Communists have some sort of a timetable which regularly calls for the shooting down of American patrol aircraft. They have done it again, this time sending 16 U. S. crewmen into the sea off the China coast.

Out of the countless routine patrol missions flown by our planes in areas not far from Communist territory or waters, it is always possible, of course, that one or another craft might occasionally stray into hostile zones.

But the great bulk of the evidence indicates over the years that the planes shot down by both the Chinese and the Russians have actually been attacked over international waters. In the current instance the Navy insists the patrol plane was properly staying clear of Chinese areas.

These assaults naturally are an old story by now, as are the reasons for them. This is the Reds' way of flexing their military muscles for the benefit of the home citizenry, the frightened fence-sitters in the world outside, and the Western powers themselves.

Proof of that comes easily to hand in this case. The United States government had no original evidence showing the identity of the attacking aircraft. Had the Chinese simply been legitimately concerned with their own protection, they would have kept quiet and let us guess.

But they wanted everybody to know who perpetrated the attack, for that is the whole point of it. So they quickly owned up.

By these periodic assaults they hope to keep our patrol planes at more than arms' length from their soil. They have an understandable fear of sneak observation forays scouting airfields and installations.

More than this, they like to reassure the oppressed Communist masses at home that there is a constant outside threat of danger which they are acting steadily to meet. By stimulating this fiction they hope always to make heavy concentration on arms production more palatable to the people.

Finally, they believe that if they "strut their stuff" before the uncommitted millions of Asians they may convince them that communism is the bandwagon and they ought to hop on before it's too late.

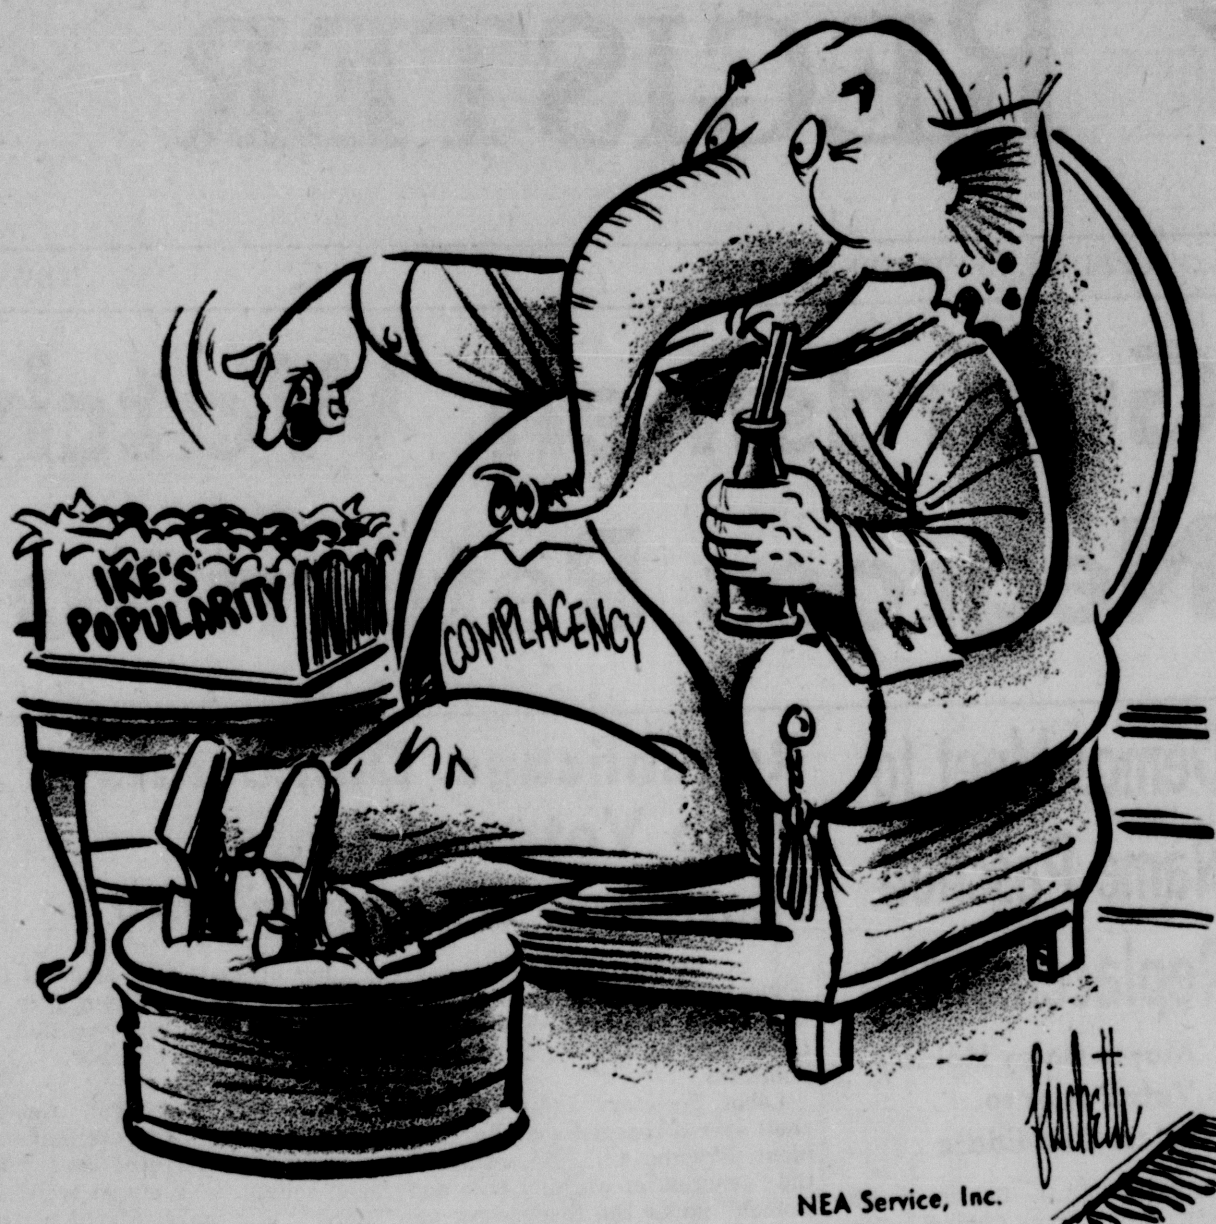

The game is old and tired and cynical. It ought not to fool anybody any more, not even the glib leaders and intellectuals of India.

We have seen another example of what India likes to call the "new China," a nation which is arrogantly demanding a larger and larger place in the world community.

The only thing new about it is weapons. And they will never earn Red China even the most minor status in a family of nations which seeks peace above all.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Dio Arrest May Force Action Against Labor Racketeers; Dio Linked With Teamsters; Southern Labor Revolt Brewing.

WASHINGTON. — The Victor Riesel acid-blasting case may force the Justice Department to go ahead with its long-threatened crackdown on labor racketeers. This could boomerang against the Republicans, whose most potent labor support comes from the racket-tainted Teamsters Union.

Johnny Dio, arrested by the FBI for allegedly ordering the acid throwing, is an underworld pal of Teamsters strongman Jimmy Hoffa.

Dio once got a charter from the Teamsters to organize New York City taxi drivers. He also teamed up with Hoffa in an effort to oust Martin Lacey as president of the Teamsters Joint Council. Hoffa presently is leading the GOP drive inside the union. He also put up Teamster money to sponsor TV and radio programs for the Republican state convention in Michigan. Teamster frontman Dave Beck was one of five labor chiefs who refused to endorse the Democratic presidential ticket at the AFL-CIO executive council meeting.

Both Hoffa and Dio are also close to Chicago's colorful labor racketeer, Paul "Red" Dorfman. Dorfman runs separate boys' and girls' camps in Winosha, Wis., uses them as a blind for labor officials and gangland characters to meet. Investigators recently traced two long-distance calls from Harold Krieger to mobster Abner "Longie" Zwillman at Dorfman's Winosha camps.

Dorfman also operates a dude ranch outside Gulfport, Miss., where he entertains celebrities and racketeers.

HOFFA'S "PURPLE" PAST

Hoffa, once linked with the Detroit "Purple Mob," has a reputation as a muscle man. One investigator's report quotes him as saying about a Jersey City waterfront mobster: "Tell that S. O. B. to straighten out. Never mind, I'll do it myself. I'm going to New York myself to do it." Internal Revenue, unimpressed by Dave Beck's GOP leanings, is going over his back tax returns with a microscope. T-men even checked on a 1950 doctor bill that Beck had paid Dr. Edward McNicholas to fly with him from Philadelphia to Chicago to tend some kidney stone pains. Dr. McNicholas, now with Bethlehem Steel at Sparrows Point, Md., assured Internal Revenue that the bill was legitimate. It included his round-trip plane fare.

Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell favors a special, high-level commission to probe labor racketeering. He has talked the idea over with Justice Department officials, will soon send formal recommendations to the White House. Ike wants to discuss the problem with AFL-CIO President George Meany, but no one wants to do anything until after the election.

SOUTHERN LABOR SPLIT?

AFL-CIO President George Meany's outspoken stand against segregation may precipitate a southern revolt inside the labor movement. Before the cigar-chewing labor leader went on record, he read—and ignored—a confidential warning that "a major revolt" was brewing among southern trade unions.

"There is widespread talk of the formation of a southern Federation of Labor based on segregation," the confidential memo reported. "Several local unions have already adopted resolutions to disaffiliate with the AFL-CIO nationally. The situation is made to order for a resourceful organizer with trade union experience to take the initiative and tie together the trade union element already represented in the fast growing White Citizens Council movement."

The memo estimated that "more than 250,000 members of unions have already been seriously affected by inroads made in organized labor by the White Citizens Councils in states of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, and South Carolina," and warned that "there are unlimited funds available from the southern oil and other interests for a movement aimed at the destruction of labor unions."

WORKERS JOIN WHITE COUNCILS

The memo reported that workers in the Firestone Rubber plant, Ford assembly plant, and International Harvester Company at Memphis, Tenn., "are believed to constitute a majority of the White Citizens Councils and Pro-Southern, Inc."

Steel workers at Fairfield, Tarrant City, and Bessemer, Ala., are "the base" of the local White Citizens Council, the confidential report added. In Montgomery county, the seven-man White Citizens executive board includes four union members.

In Tuscaloosa, the memo said, "despite denials of the rubber workers local union that their members had no part in the riot at the University of Alabama, observers who were present state that the demonstration was organized and led by union members from nearby rubber, paper, and steel plants."

GLOOMY OUTLOOK

The memo concludes gloomily: "Very little new organization work can be successfully undertaken in the south by the staffs of AFL-CIO... in the face of the racial crisis."

"2. The trade union movement will be set back five to ten years by this crisis. If and when an independent union movement based on segregation is launched, it will attract practically all of the white union membership. Without the leadership of the whites, the Negro members will fall away."

"3. Some of the union leaders want to work out a method of operation which will permit them to live with the White Citizens Council movement. This would involve a public statement by the president of the AFL-CIO to the effect that there is room for dissent on the civil rights issue."

But Meany, after digesting this warning, clamped his teeth on his cigar and testified exactly the opposite at the Democratic convention. Later he blasted both parties for "weaseling" on the civil rights issue.

LEADS AND LEAKS

Vice President Nixon has been coyness up to Secretary of Labor Mitchell. Once at odds, the two now cooperate closely inside the cabinet. Friction between the AFL and CIO hasn't been entirely eliminated by the merger. Example: AFL Chief George Meany, now the combined president, denounced India's Prime Minister Nehru as pro-Communist. CIO Leader Walter Reuther, No. 2 man in the new setup, made a good-will trip to India to court Nehru. Brothers Walter and Victor Reuther are so disgruntled over what they consider Meany's negative foreign policy that they're forming their own foreign policy section inside the United Auto Workers. CIO political expert Jack Kroll, now working under AFL's James McDevitt, complains privately that McDevitt doesn't implement his plans.

For example, McDevitt proclaimed "Registration Week" but did nothing to see that union members actually registered. Result: Over 50 per cent of the AFL-CIO won't be able to vote this November.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Djeffenbacher, D. D. Written for NEA Service

DAY after day we compromise with others to maintain peace with other people. We discuss differences and similar points of view. We mediate our little differences. We negotiate working procedures. Generally one settles one's differences, but sometimes our conflicts become so severe that we go to war or to battle at the conference table.

We know that force does not make right. We know that killing people and injuring many more will not bring peace. In the midst of conflicts we lose our ability to think clearly. We fight for "causes" and "principles" with full realization that the best results are not entirely satisfactory.

After conflicts are over there are many scars which will never disappear. Bodies, minds or souls will be injured and left to suffer without hope of ever being healed.

In the face of the dilemma, which we face in knowing when and how to compromise or when to stand our ground, we must turn to God for help. Unfortunately we do not know how to compromise our convictions, and at the same time avoid strife within our souls.

If we are going to learn the price of peace and be willing to pay that price we must have spiritual resources outside ourselves. We must settle each case on its own merits and with God's individual guidance in making every decision.

Botany and Zoology Converge on Seaweed

KINGSTON, R. I. — The Navy is sponsoring a three-year study on what makes seaweed and other pesky underwater materials grow. Working on the $7,500 project are Dr. Richard Wood, associate professor of botany at the University of Rhode Island, and Dr. Donald J. Zinn, an associate professor of zoology at the university. Their goal is to lay the groundwork for eventual steps to prevent fouling of objects such as anchors, ship bottoms, mines and cables, submerged in the sea.

"Very little is known of the beginning stages of algae and seaweed and still less about the interrelation of the plant and animal life at various levels of the ocean and the biology of the plant and animal communities there," Dr. Wood said.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER Secretary of State

Last week we devoted this space to giving a few simple tips on how to get more pleasure out of driving. This week we have a few more suggestions on the same subject. The secret to deriving more pleasure from driving is, of course, getting to the desired destination with the least amount of worry and trouble.

One way to minimize trouble is to be prepared for a turn. Some motorists day dream their way up to an intersection in the center of the road and then suddenly remember they have to make a right turn. Just as bad is the motorist who hugs the right hand lane and then, at the last moment, remembers he wants to make a left hand turn. Trouble awaits these motorists.

A lot of worry can be excluded from the mind of a motorist if he will take the proper precautions before passing another vehicle. The driver should make sure there is plenty of space ahead of his vehicle before he begins to pass. A motorist should NEVER attempt to pass another vehicle on a hill or curve.

More pleasure can be had while driving at night if the motorist keeps to the right, avoids looking into approaching headlights and watches his side of the road.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Man in Dark Suit Easy to Spot

SACRAMENTO — It was 103 in Sacramento recently and not many persons were wearing dark suits.

This made it rather easy for police to pick up Raymond Cordova of Sacramento for questioning in a stolen car case.

It was reported that a man in a dark suit had stolen an auto. Police stopped the first man they saw in dark clothing. It was Cordova.

VFW Auxiliary Members Make Cancer Bandages

Mrs. Bud Fink, auxiliary cancer chairman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, recently reported that over 200 cancer bandages were made from sheets donated by Mrs. Floyd Teply.

Members and friends who completed the bandages last Wednesday night were Mrs. Elizabeth Hindmarsh, Mrs. Byford Summers, Mrs. J. D. Stanley, Mrs. Ed Bennett, Mrs. Quinn Stuby, Mrs. Hollie Stout, Mrs. Ruth Stout, Mrs. Charles Shanks, Mrs. Eugene Boots, and the chairman, Mrs. Fink.

The auxiliary will meet again Wednesday at 7 p. m. for further work on this project.

The group recently completed bed paddings for a Harrisburg resident who is a victim of paralysis. Several hospital gowns were also made for this victim from white materials given the auxiliary by past post commander Leonard Walker.

Mrs. Leo Jones, hospital chairman, announced that several shirts donated by Dr. H. J. Raley were ready to be mailed to veteran patients at the Anna State hospital.

FBI Releases Only Suspect in Kidnaping of 6-Weeks-Old Child

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP) — The FBI released its only known suspect today in the hunt for the mysterious dark skinned woman believed to have kidnaped 6-weeks-old Cynthia Ruotolo.

Four women shoppers at the Sears and Roebuck store where the infant was abducted Saturday failed to identify a former mental patient brought in by Middletown, Conn., police.

The woman, Miss Stella Xenakias, 23, of New Haven Conn., was found Monday night walking along a road in a dazed condition, her arms scratched by bushes.

G-men absolved the woman of any connection in the case after several hours of questioning early today.

"They couldn't identify her," Hamden Deputy Police Chief Frank Cattaneo said after the four women shoppers had looked at the suspect.

The authorities immediately clamped down again its veil of secrecy centered around a single clue, the swarthy, stocky woman of about 35 who was seen carrying a baby from the Sears and Roebuck store where Mrs. Eleanor Ruotolo, 29, was shopping.

Renewal of a "human chain" search by hundreds of volunteers was called off by authorities who feared that the kidnaper might be frightened by crowds and abandon the baby to her death. The recent kidnaper of Peter Weinberger had left him to die in a patch of woods near a Long Island road soon after his July 4 abduction.

Some grumbling and resentment were heard among the volunteer searchers when police called off Monday a search centered around Mill River, a three foot deep stream near the store where Cynthia was taken from her carriage. Thanks Crowd

"We're only trying to help speed the baby's safe return," said Joseph Casper, thanking a crowd of about 500 persons assembled in front of Hamden police headquarters.

Desperate appeals by Stephen Ruotolo, 33, and his wife, assisted by their neighborhood priest, were directed to a woman. Police theorize that a woman abducted the child as no ransom note was left. The appeals, rebroadcast in French, Italian, Spanish and Greek, promised no reprisals if the baby was returned safe.

"We have checked every lead, no matter how faint but it has netted us nothing," Police Chief Harry Barrows said.

"We are hoping now that the conscience of the unidentified woman who took the baby will give us the break we are looking for," Barrows said.

The appeals directed the "woman" to return the child to one of the town's 13 churches.

Baby Had Cold

The baby was suffering from a slight cold and sore throat when kidnaped. Authorities said the infant would still be all right now if given reasonably good care.

The appeals by Mr. and Mrs. Ruotolo were made from the lawn of their modest, ranch type home. Another son, Gary, 8, lay ill with a virus infection and a 102-degree temperature. The couple's other living child, Susan, 20 months, gurgled happily when a neighbor took her for a walk.

Mrs. Ruotolo broke down midway in her appeal. Her husband put his arm around her and she was able to finish. In his plea Ruotolo said he was "bewildered."

"The baby is very young and so very helpless," he said. "And in constant need of love and care, and of course, only her mother can provide her with that love and affection."

Two of the couple's other children have died, one of pneumonia and one in a nursery accident.

Truman Attacks Labor Policies of GOP in 'Tell the Truth' Campaign

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Former President Truman said he's not going to give the Republicans "hell" in the campaign — "I'm just going to tell the truth about them."

"They might not think that's hell," he said during his day-long stay here Monday, which he capped with an attack on Republican labor policies since 1952.

Mr. Truman said he was "already campaigning" for the ticket of Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver in denying to newsmen a rumor that he would not campaign for Stevenson.

"Who started that rumor — the Republicans?" Mr. Truman asked. He said the Democrats will win in 1956, and added with a grin, "with my help."

The Democratic National Committee, he said, has asked him to speak in Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 10 and at St. Louis Sept. 11.

On a television show earlier, Mr. Truman told a questioner he was sure Vice President Richard M. Nixon's renomination would "defeat" from the GOP ticket.

He also gave the date and place of Nixon's alleged remark that the Democrats are a party of treason. Mr. Truman said Nixon made the remark at Texarkana, Tex., Oct. 27, 1952.

"You read that speech and see if I'm not right," the former chief executive said.

Nixon has denied making that remark.

In his speech, Mr. Truman praised Stevenson as a "fighter." "I can tell you from my own experience that he has the drive, the energy and the ability to reach the goals he sets," the ex-president said.

"I can recommend him to you as a fighter." Mr. Truman singled out the nation's workers as being able to "thank the Democratic Party for frustrating the anti-labor plot of the Eisenhower administration."

Nixon's Father Grows Weaker

LA HABRA, Calif. (AP) — The condition of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's father grew weaker today but he was still putting up a courageous battle in hopes of living to see his son re-elected.

The father, 77-year old Frank Nixon, continued to grow weaker but he still amazed his doctor by managing to cling to life. His condition Monday night was reported about the same but his heart was getting weaker.

Calendar Of Meetings

The executive board of the Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the church.

The Saline County Association for Mentally Retarded Children will meet at 7:30 p. m. today at Jefferson school in Eldorado. All members and parents of retarded children are urged to attend.

Hagerty Charges Stevenson Makes Political Capital of Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty today accused Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson of welcoming unemployment and trying to make political capital out of "isolated instances of misery among the American people."

Hagerty based the charge on a clipping from the New York Times which he read aloud at a news conference. It was from the "News of the Week in Review" section of last Sunday's Times, toward the end of a long resume of Stevenson's week of cross-country political touring. The Times related that Stevenson returned to Chicago "jaunty, full of juice, confidence and conclusions."

The Times article gave this account of Stevenson's news conference in Chicago Friday:

"All the news is good," he said. "There was 'serious unemployment' in northern New Mexico, Detroit and southern Illinois. Farmers were worried. People were aroused by the rising C. of L. (cost of living). But most of all, he held, he had heard 'a lot of talk' about the President's 'failure of leadership' and 'the tensions in the world and our blunders.'"

"Look for Misery"

Urging newsmen to demand that Stevenson confirm or deny the quotation, Hagerty said:

"It seems to me rather peculiar, to say the least, for a candidate for the presidency of the United States to think that unemployment, no matter how small is good news."

"It also seems to be that this represents the campaign of the Democratic Party. They seem to welcome and look for isolated instances of misery among the

1,400 Attend Open House at New Limerick Offices

Bill Brown manager of the Harrisburg office of the Limerick Finance Co., today reported that 1,400 persons visited the new offices in the Patterson building at 22 West Poplar street Saturday.

Mr. Brown, greatly impressed by the fine reception from the public, said that although the open house was advertised as being from 2 to 6 p. m., visitors started coming in during the morning hours to see the modern new quarters.

The visitors were welcomed by local, district and regional personnel of Limerick Finance Co. and were presented with gifts and were given the opportunity to register for door prizes.

Each man visitor was given a cigar, each woman a carnation and the children were given bubble gum.

Prize winners were: Electric skillet, Mrs. Eugene Weatherly, 407-A Ford street, Harrisburg; toaster, Mrs. Brice Shewmaker, 1006 South Granger street, Harrisburg; radio, Edith Cathcart, 438 Ferguson, Wood River, Ill.; electric drill, Harry Denny, 1105 South McKinley, Harrisburg; and coffee maker, Henry Schwan, 605 West Elm, Harrisburg.

Assisting the local personnel were Wendell Dixon, regional manager from Evansville; Carl Rude of Harrisburg, district manager for southern Illinois; Tom McCann, former local manager and now a district manager in Indiana; and Charles Stoltz, from the advertising department in Evansville.

Legion Parade Is Marred By Two Deaths

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The American Legion's 38th annual convention was in full swing today following a spectacular parade which was marred by two deaths.

The convention was scheduled to open its business with key addresses by George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and Hollington K. Tong, Nationalist China's ambassador to the United States.

An estimated 30,000 Legionnaires marched for more than six hours Monday.

Two deaths marred the Labor Day observance. Marine 1st Lt. Paul Hightower Jr., 23, of Los Angeles, who took part in the flyover, was killed when his F9F5 Panther jet fighter crashed while landing.

Newton Spedee, an American Legion commander from the 5th district of Minneapolis, died of a heart attack during the parade activities.

China Recovers Third Body from Downed U.S. Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department announced today that Red China has recovered a third body from a Navy patrol plane shot down Aug. 23 by Red Chinese planes.

The body was identified as that of Aviation Electronics Mate I.C. William Frederick Haskins, Westport, Conn.

The State Department said it got the information when Red China Monday notified the British charge d'affaires at Peiping that a body identified as an American was found Aug. 31 on the beach of one of the Chushan islands.

The department said the Chinese Communists have agreed to turn Haskins' body over to the British representative in Shanghai who will send it somewhere to be handed over to American authorities. This presumably means either to Japan or Hong Kong.

The Navy plane with 16 crew members was shot down on a routine patrol off the China mainland. The United States has charged the Red planes attacked without warning over international waters.

Register To Vote Now

All Voters who have never registered, those that have moved into Saline County, and those that have moved to another precinct or changed their address will have until October 8th, 1956 to register or transfer.

This can be done in the County Clerk's office, at any City Clerk's office in Saline county and with any precinct committeeman in Saline county on or before October 8, 1956.

The same applies to men and women who become 21 years old on or before Nov. 6 of this year.

Women who change their names by marriage will have to register under their married name to be eligible to vote on Nov. 6.

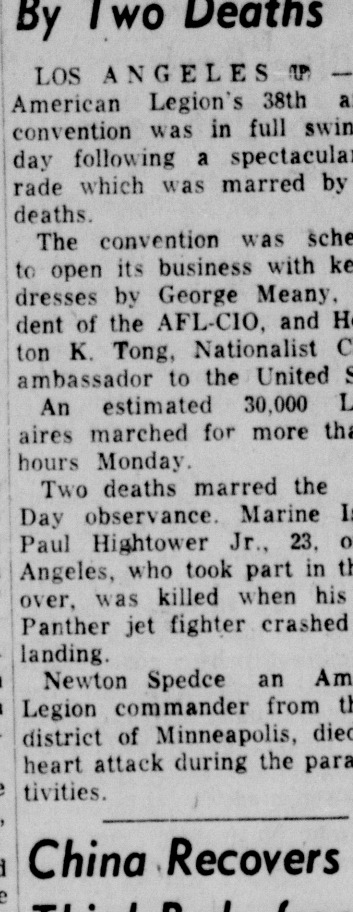

This is an election year in which it is important that every voter cast a vote, and it is more important to know that he is a registered voter.

The County Clerk's office has a registration card, showing the precinct and address of each voter, in the mail. If a voter does not receive one of the new registration cards, there is something wrong, namely, the voter is not registered or has moved and not transferred his registration or there is an error in the registration. We are anxious that every person's registration be in order and we will be ready at all times to help correct registrations.

Some transfers of registrations have been made since the new cards were made up and it is possible that some may get two cards. Please check for the right card.

State Electoral Board to Certify Ballot Wednesday

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The State Electoral Board will meet Wednesday to certify the ballot for the November election, including the Democratic candidate for governor to be named today.

Gov. William G. Stratton, chairman of the board, has been quoted as saying the question of whether to accept the withdrawal of Herbert C. Paschen as the Democratic candidate for governor might come up at the meeting.

But experts in the index department of the secretary of state's office said the board has no choice but to accept Paschen's withdrawal and certify the candidate selected as his replacement today by the Democratic State Central Committee.

Youth Hurt in Hunting Accident

MT. CARMEL, Ill. (Special) — A 16-year-old boy accidentally shot himself near his home in Schrodt's Station Monday morning and crawled a half-mile to Ill. 1 before being taken to the hospital.

The boy, David Eversole, told police he was hunting in woods about two miles west of here when he stumbled, fell and his 22 rifle discharged, the bullet striking him in the stomach.

Wabash General hospital officials here reported him in "fair" condition following surgery.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Max Eversole, said he told her several cars passed him as he lay on the highway. Finally, he crawled to the middle of the highway and a milk truck stopped and notified authorities.

Father, Son Admit Faking Drive-In Holdup

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — Centralia police say larceny charges will be filed against a 53-year-old drive-in theater janitor and his 19-year-old son who faked a holdup in taking more than $1,000 from the Centralia Drive-In Theater.

Police Chief L. C. Peters said he has obtained signed confessions from Noah Jones and Jones' son, Noah Robert Jones.

The police chief said the janitor had his son tie him up and leave him on the street to make it look like a holdup. The elder Jones' cries led to police being summoned.

Peters said Jones' son hid the four sacks of drive-in proceeds amounting to $1,121.40 in a coal shed.

The two admitted the ruse under questioning, Peters said. Police recovered all but about $17 which the Jones youth spent.

Tommy Fisher, 102, Former Resident Of Eldorado, Dies

Tommy Fisher, 102, died yesterday morning at the Odd Fellows home in Mattoon. He was a retired miner and a former resident of Eldorado.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Smith, Danville, eight grandchildren, 13 great grandchildren.

The body is at the Mitchell-Jordan funeral home in Mattoon where the funeral will be Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. Burial will be in Mattoon.

Charges State Dep't Forced 1-Sided Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired career diplomat Angus Ward charges the State Department forced him to "prostitute" himself in 1948 in making a one-sided report on Nationalist China.

He also charges a State Department official accused him in 1945 of being a "disloyal American" because he predicted Russian expansion into the heart of Europe.

Ward—recently resigned as ambassador to Afghanistan ending his 31-year diplomatic career—was interviewed in secret last Wednesday by chief counsel Robert Morris of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. A transcript of the interview was made public today.

The Chinese Reds held Ward under house arrest for 14 months after capturing Mukden where he was consul general. He was one of the first Americans to feel the terror of the Red Chinese regime.

Says Superior Instructed Him

He told Morris that before his arrest when he returned to Washington in 1948 for consultation a State Department superior instructed him to give Secretary of Defense James Forrestal a one-sided picture of the Chinese Civil War.

Ward said the official—unidentified in the transcript—told him to talk to Forrestal only about "the extent of the demoralization among the Chinese Nationalists, the extent of corruption and matriculation of that kind."

The diplomat said he wanted to give Forrestal his "thoughts on the ways in which we could help the Nationalist government of China to better its chances in the war against the Communists." But he said he "prostituted" himself because he felt obligated to follow instructions or resign.

Prediction Comes True

Ward said he predicted in talks with a department official in 1945 "that the Soviet Union in Europe would not be content with anything short of a line approximately running from the Baltic to the Adriatic." Russia bore this out soon afterward.

He said the official—also not named—"said he was astounded that I could speak of one of our allies and that in so speaking I was a disloyal American."

Epileptic Boy, 14, Drowns in Potomac Basin

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nearly blind teen-age epileptic boy who ran away from a hospital trying to reach the home he loved drowned Monday in the Potomac River Tidal Basin.

The boy—14-year-old John Belcher—ran away early Saturday from the Federal Association for Epilepsy's hospital at nearby Brentwood, Md. Officials believe he left on a bicycle.

Officials said he had been talking about going home to Minneapolis all summer. But he needed daily dosages of special drugs to prevent frequent epileptic seizures — as many as 40 a day.

John's father—A. L. Belcher—flew here when John disappeared. Police in 15 states were asked to watch for the boy.

A holiday fisherman found him floating in the cherry tree circled Tidal Basin.

Stevenson Drafts Foreign Policy Speech to Legion

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson drafted a foreign policy speech today for delivery to the national convention of the American Legion at Los Angeles Wednesday.

The Democratic presidential candidate, remarking he felt like he'd been on a "merry-go-round," returned here late Monday night after stumping Michigan by plane and auto in a series of Labor Day talks.

Stevenson drove to his country home at nearby Libertyville, Ill. Aides said he planned to spend several hours today working on the speech he will deliver to the Legion convention. Sources close to Stevenson said it would be on foreign policy.

After appearing before the Legionnaires, Stevenson will fly to San Francisco, where he will conduct a meeting with California and Nevada Democrats to talk campaign strategy Thursday.

Prison Physician Describes Hodge's Condition Serious

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A prison physician described deposed State Auditor Orville Hodge's physical condition as "serious," today and said he would need several weeks in the hospital.

Dr. James A. Weatherly, consulting physician to the hospital at the Menard branch of the State Penitentiary, said "Hodge's condition is definitely serious and will need four to six weeks of hospitalization."

Hodge, imprisoned for a million dollar swindle of state funds, was in the hospital for treatment of an ulcer.

Dr. Weatherly said there was some danger of perforation. "We hope, however, to avoid surgery," he said.

Report Near Record Savings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans put away for a rainy day $7,100,000,000 during the first half of 1956.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported Monday that Americans put the near record amount into savings accounts, savings bonds and life insurance policy reserves.

That is about 1 billion dollars more than in the last half of 1955 and 300 million dollars more than in the first six months of last year.

Illinois State Blue Book Covering 1955-56 Out Soon

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—A preview of Illinois' official manual — the Illinois State Blue Book — covering the 1955-56 biennium reveals new and interesting features. One, a story of the life of Abraham Lincoln, an authority on Old Abe continues to emphasize Illinois as the "Land O' Lincoln" and another article is on the new $11 million state office building in Springfield.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, East Moline, is editor of the publication and he is ably assisted by Joseph Jones, a former Springfield newspaperman. It is crammed with facts, statistics, articles and pictures dealing with state government and is expected to continue to be in demand as a "must" by Illinois schools ranging from the grades to the colleges.

Consisting of 928 pages the book contains articles on their office functions by Secretary Carpenter; Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, Sandwich; Superintendent of Public Instruction Vernon L. Nickell, Champaign; and by each of the heads of state departments under Gov. William G. Stratton; and a story on Lincoln by the late Harry Pratt, state historian.

Carpenter said the book is ideal for school rooms "containing as it does a chronological history, and official information concerning matters relating to the executive, judicial and legislative departments of our great commonwealth." He said the book, more than any other thing, "acquaints students and citizen with state government and its public officials."

Absent from the new Blue Book will be the usual signed article on the office of State Auditor of Public Accounts. The biography of ousted Orville E. Hodge, Granite City, appears as that of a resigned official. Hodge quit the office after his exposure as the principal figure in the theft of state funds said to amount to approximately $1 1/2 million.

But an unsigned article about the auditor's office does appear and is strictly along functional lines indicating the auditor's duties under the constitution and laws of the state. The auditor's section also includes a full page portrait of Lloyd Morey, Urbana, along with a biographical sketch. Morey was named by Governor Stratton to fill the vacancy created by Hodge's resignation.

First editions off the press, expected to be ready in about five weeks, will be sent to state officials, judges, legislators and other ranking state officers. This is in accordance with tradition of the secretary of state's office. Authorized by the General Assembly the Blue Book is recognized generally as a convenient source of official information regarding state government.

The lead article in the story of the new state office building. It includes a series of illustrations indicating the progress of the building from foundation to completion. It was built at a cost of $1 million under the appropriation. Both the old and new senatorial reapportionment districts are included as is an entire section regarding press, radio and television.

iques of the typographical art. All department sections are prefaced with a title page reproduction of a photograph pertinent to the respective department. The frontispiece is a new and beautiful color reproduction of the Capitol which highlights the silver dome in striking contrast to the quiet sandstone exterior.

Covers of the book will be similar to those of the modern past except that Illinois' new copyrighted "Land O' Lincoln" insignia will appear on the back of all editions.

Secretary Carpenter is credited with originating the movement for adoption of the insignia as a state motto. He requested and received legislative permission to place the historic reminder on motor vehicle license plates and was also instrumental in obtaining, by act of Congress, a copyright forbidding its use on other than official state documents or publications.

More than 40 per cent of the American bicycles bought as gifts are purchased in the six weeks before Christmas.

Mantle Drops Even With Ruth Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Ruth has at last "caught up" to Mickey Mantle in the race to the home run record.

For many weeks young Mantle of the New York Yankees has been hitting homers at a faster rate than did the late, immortal Babe in 1927 when he set the all-time record of 60 circuit clouts for a single season. But when Mickey went homer-less in Monday's double-header against Baltimore, he dropped down exactly even with the Babe's pace.

Mantle now has 47 homers in 133 games, the same as the Babe.

Branca is Back In Dodger Uniform

BROOKLYN (AP) — Ralph Branca, the big, game guy Brooklyn fans love although his most famous pitch cost them a 1951 pennant, is back in a Dodger uniform again with cheers ringing in his ears.

Caught in a squeeze for pitchers as they battle for this year's National League flag, the Dodgers called the 30-year-old Branca out of retirement Monday and signed him to a contract for the rest of the year.

Sets New World Shotput Record

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Parry O'Brien tossed the shotput 62 feet, 6 3/8 inches here Monday to set a new world record in the event and better his former world record by nearly 14 inches.

O'Brien's record-shattering toss came on his third attempt after he had surpassed the existing standard he set at the all-comers meet in Pasadena, Calif., two weeks ago in both of his previous attempts.

Evanston Coed Critically Hurt In Canyon Fall

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — An Evanston, Ill., coed was reported slightly injured from critical injuries suffered in a 125-foot fall down a canyon in Starved Rock State Park.

Georgia Gray, 19, suffered a broken back, fractured leg and internal injuries in the fall. Doctors at Byburn Hospital here said her condition, however, was still critical.

Miss Gray and Bruce Outer, 18, Des Plaines, were on a picnic at the park Sunday when they took a walk along Illini Canyon. Outer said that the pretty coed suddenly tripped and toppled over the edge, pulling him after her.

Couter, who is a freshman at Millikin University in Decatur with Miss Gray, added that he managed to grab a small tree as they slid over the lip of the canyon.

Typhoon Hits Coast of China

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Dinah rammed into the coast of Communist China today and Radio Peiping said 76 fishing boats with 200 crew members were missing.

Another typhoon killed 2,000 persons in the area just one month ago.

Radio Peiping said the typhoon hit the coast near Foochow with hurricane force, although it quickly lost much of its punch as it traveled further inland.

RACING CHAMPS — The cart racing program, which was staged on Cherry street hill for the past several weeks, closed Sunday. John Warmelink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warmelink, 11 West Raymond street, took championship honors. Winner of second place was Tommy Gilliam and Jimmy Smith was third. Other finalists were Curt Walleson, Jimmy Gilliam and Mac Mitchell. As many as 14 drivers and carts participated in the afternoon program with a large number of parents and friends of the young contestants lined along both sides of the street to cheer for their favorite. Following the championship race the winner was presented with a trophy by Bill Holloman, first vice president of the Lions club, sponsor of the program. Cash awards of $4, $2 and $1 were also presented, courtesy of the Lloyd L. Parker Furniture store. The other three finalists received $1 each. Front row, left to right, John Warmelink, Tommy Gilliam and Jimmy Smith; back row, left to right, City Patrolman Pat Atkinson, also a Lion, who roped off the street for the racing each Sunday and was general supervisor; Virginia Leberman, active in organizing the program, and Mr. Holloman. Before the start of Sunday's program the young racing drivers presented Patrolman Atkinson with a flashlight, in appreciation for his help throughout the several Sunday afternoons of racing. Arizona Man Wins Ted Horn Auto Race Title

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Jim Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz., won the 100-mile Ted Horn Memorial National championship big car race Monday for the second consecutive time.

Bryan sped across the finish line at the Du Quoin State Fair about three-quarters of a mile ahead of John Thomson, Baytown, Pa., who was second. Bryan's winning time was 1:55:25 57-100.

In third place was Jim Rathman, Miami, Fla. George Amick, Los Angeles, was fourth and Bob Beith, Oakland, Calif., fifth.

Bryan held the lead from the 33rd lap when he took over after Thomson lost control of his car on a curve for a moment.

Swaps Wins $142,700 Handicap

CHICAGO (AP) — Swaps, the fourth richest horse in history, relaxed today after his capture of the $142,700 Washington Park handicap.

Swaps came within 1-5 of a second of his own world record for the mile, 1:33 1-5. Guided by Willie Shoemaker, Swaps raced hard in the stretch to streak across the finish line 2½ lengths ahead of Summer Tan.

Braves Split with Reds to Hold 3½ Game Lead as Dodgers, Pirates Divide

By United Press

The "magic number" was 20 for the Milwaukee Braves today because young Hank Aaron went on a batting spree while the Brooklyn Dodgers "old pros" failed to hit in the clutch against the sixth-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

The second-place Dodgers and Cincinnati Redlegs came out of Labor Day double-headers still trailing the Braves by 3 1/2 games. Any combination of Brooklyn or Cincinnati losses and Milwaukee victories adding to 20 will give baseball-happy Milwaukee the National League pennant.

Aaron enabled the Braves to divide two games with Cincinnati despite some fielding lapses that must have made Manager Fred Haney wish the Milwaukee dugout cooler contained something stronger than water.

Blasts Two Homers

Hank blasted two homers and then scored the winning run after doubling in the ninth as Milwaukee rallied to win the opener, 3-2. Cincinnati won the nightcap, 7-5, while Aaron socked a homer and double to regain the National League batting leadership from Wally Moon of the St. Louis Cardinals with a .327 average.

Milwaukee outfielders made two errors and turned three other drives into doubles by mishandling them as they made teammate Lew Burdette sweat to win the opener. Aaron dropped a fly by Wally Post and Bill Bruton dropped one by Smokey Burgess, but both Redlegs were thrown out trying to get another base on the miscues.

The split before a record 60,444 gave Brooklyn a chance to gain on both the Braves and Redlegs. But the Dodgers, reeling through their third double-header in as many days opened a long home stand by dividing with the lowly Pirates.

Dodgers Defeat Friend

The Dodgers defeated Bob Friend, 4-3, in the opener but he returned to halt a rally in the eighth inning of the second game and preserve a 3-2 triumph for Elroy Face. The Dodgers blew chances to at least tie the game in the eighth and ninth when such veterans as Duke Snider, Jackie Robinson and Carl Furillo couldn't make clutch hits.

The New York Yankees boosted their American League lead to 8 1/2 games and reduced their "magic number" to 15 by whipping the Baltimore Orioles, 6-1 and 5-0. Yogi Berra hit two homers to back Johnny Kucks' seven-hit pitching in the opener and Don Larsen gave only four hits to win the second game.

Drives in Eight Runs

Pitcher Early Wynn singled Gene Woodling home in the ninth inning to give the second-place Cleveland Indians a 2-1 victory after Vic Power drove in three runs with two homers to help the Kansas City Athletics win the first game, 5-2. Any combination of Cleveland losses and New York victories adding to 15 will give the Yankees the pennant.

Drives in Eight Runs

The Boston Red Sox, with Jim Piersall driving in eight runs, defeated the Washington Senators, 7-5 and 16-0. The Detroit Tigers pounded five White Sox pitchers for an 11-8 victory but Larry Doby, Minnie Minoso, Fred Hatfield and Jim Rivera hit homers to help Chicago win the second game, 5-3.

In the other National League games, the Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-0, after losing the first game, 4-2. Walt Moryn of the Cubs hit one homer in the first game and two more in the second. Jackie Brandt's single scored Willie Mays in the eighth to give the New York Giants a 2-1 victory after Bob Miller, formerly a relief pitcher, gave only four hits in leading the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-1 triumph in the first game.

PAULSON finished his third drink and gravely debated having another. Reluctantly, he decided against it. He was feeling fine, now. Just had a little edge on. Just right for the things he had to do.

He got out his wallet and fumbled in it. The waitress saw him and came to his booth with a slip of paper on a small, round tray.

He peered near-sighted at the bill. That accident broke his glasses. He'd have to get another pair. First thing in the morning. Too late to do it tonight, he guessed. Opticians probably all closed up shop when it got dark.

The figures on the slip swam before his gaze and he asked the waitress, "How much?"

She told him and he blinked down at his wallet and carefully selected a five. He put it on her tray and said, "Keep change."

When she had gone away, he got up stiffly and slid out, walked a little unsteadily to the front door, remembering to keep the left side of his face averted as he passed the bar and went out into the cool night.

Things blurred as he dragged in a lungful of the clean air. He staggered a little more obviously as he went to his car and got under the wheel.

Looking for Nellie. That's what. Had to find her.

He put the car in gear and it lurched away. Lessee, now. Where was he exactly? He didn't know Miami too well, but it is an easy town for a stranger to orient himself in if he can read street signs, and he paused at the next intersection to peer out the windshield and read them aloud.

Sure. He knew now. Turn to the left and drive about six blocks. Then to the right three blocks. That was it.

Everything was all right now. He knew exactly where he was and where he was going. He needed another little night-cap maybe. Then he'd sleep soundly. And first thing tomorrow he'd get some new glasses and then he'd find Nellie.

THE Silver Glade was a modest night-spot in the Southwest section not more than 10 blocks from Michael Shayne's hotel. It had a floor show and a small dance floor, and it served honest drinks of liquor to natives or to tourists sober enough to notice what they were drinking.

Because it was close and because the bartender knew Shayne's preference in cognac, the detective was in the habit of dropping into the Silver Glade occasionally for a late drink. When he entered the door tonight the hatcheck girl smiled at him brightly and said, "Long time no see, Mr. Shayne," as she took his Panama without bothering to give him a check for it.

He took the four-by-six photograph from his pocket and pushed it in front of her. "Ever see this guy around?"

She leaned forward for a better look and studied the picture thoughtfully.

"Don't remember as I have. You know how it is. Half the time I don't even look at them when I hand out checks—unless they're big, ugly redheads, that is."

Holding the photograph in his hand, he went to the bar where there was an empty stool at one end. The bartender was middle-aged and bland-faced. When he saw the redhead coming to the bar he turned and reached up to the top shelf to lift down a bottle of Martell.

He set it on the bar in front of Shayne and uncorked it with a flourish. "Don't see you around much, Mike."

Shayne laid the picture on the counter and poured cognac in a small glass. "You notice this bird in here this evening?"

The bartender looked down at it, then reached into his hip pocket for a pair of glasses in a leather case. He hooked them behind his ears and studied the man's face carefully.

"Can't say that I did, Mike, but that doesn't mean he wasn't in."

Shayne said, sure, he knew how it was. A slim, dark man in elegant evening clothes came up behind him and clapped him lightly on the shoulder.

"Glad to see you, Shamus. On the house, Henry," he told the bartender, nodding toward the bottle.

"I'll call offener, since you give Martell for free," Shayne told the proprietor pleasantly. He moved the picture back with his forefinger on it. "You had anybody in this evening that looked like this?"

SALVADORE studied it critically. "Sure. Dozens of them just about like that. He isn't one you'd pick out of a crowd."

He hadn't much hope of success with the picture. As Salvatore said, the face was too thoroughly ordinary, too completely undistinguished to give anyone reason for remembering it.

But it was all Shayne had left now. If he could prove the dead man had actually been in the Silver Glade after 9:30, it would be a cinch he hadn't gone into Biscayne Bay from room 316 of the Hibiscus.

But what would that prove? Shayne asked himself angrily. Nothing, really. He still wouldn't know the actual identity of the man with the scarred face—nor of the dead man.

Bert Paulson? Charles Barnes? A dead girl in the park. Until he looked at her face and at the receipted bill from the Hibiscus, he had been so dead certain she wasn't Nellie Paulson.

Wife Held Without Bond for Slaying Husband in Quarrel

MARION, Ill. (UP)—A 29-year-old mother was held without bond after local authorities said she admitted slaying her husband with a shotgun during a quarrel.

Mrs. Ouida Cannon was held for grand jury action after a coroner's jury agreed her husband, Raymond, 31, died from shotgun wounds inflicted by his wife.

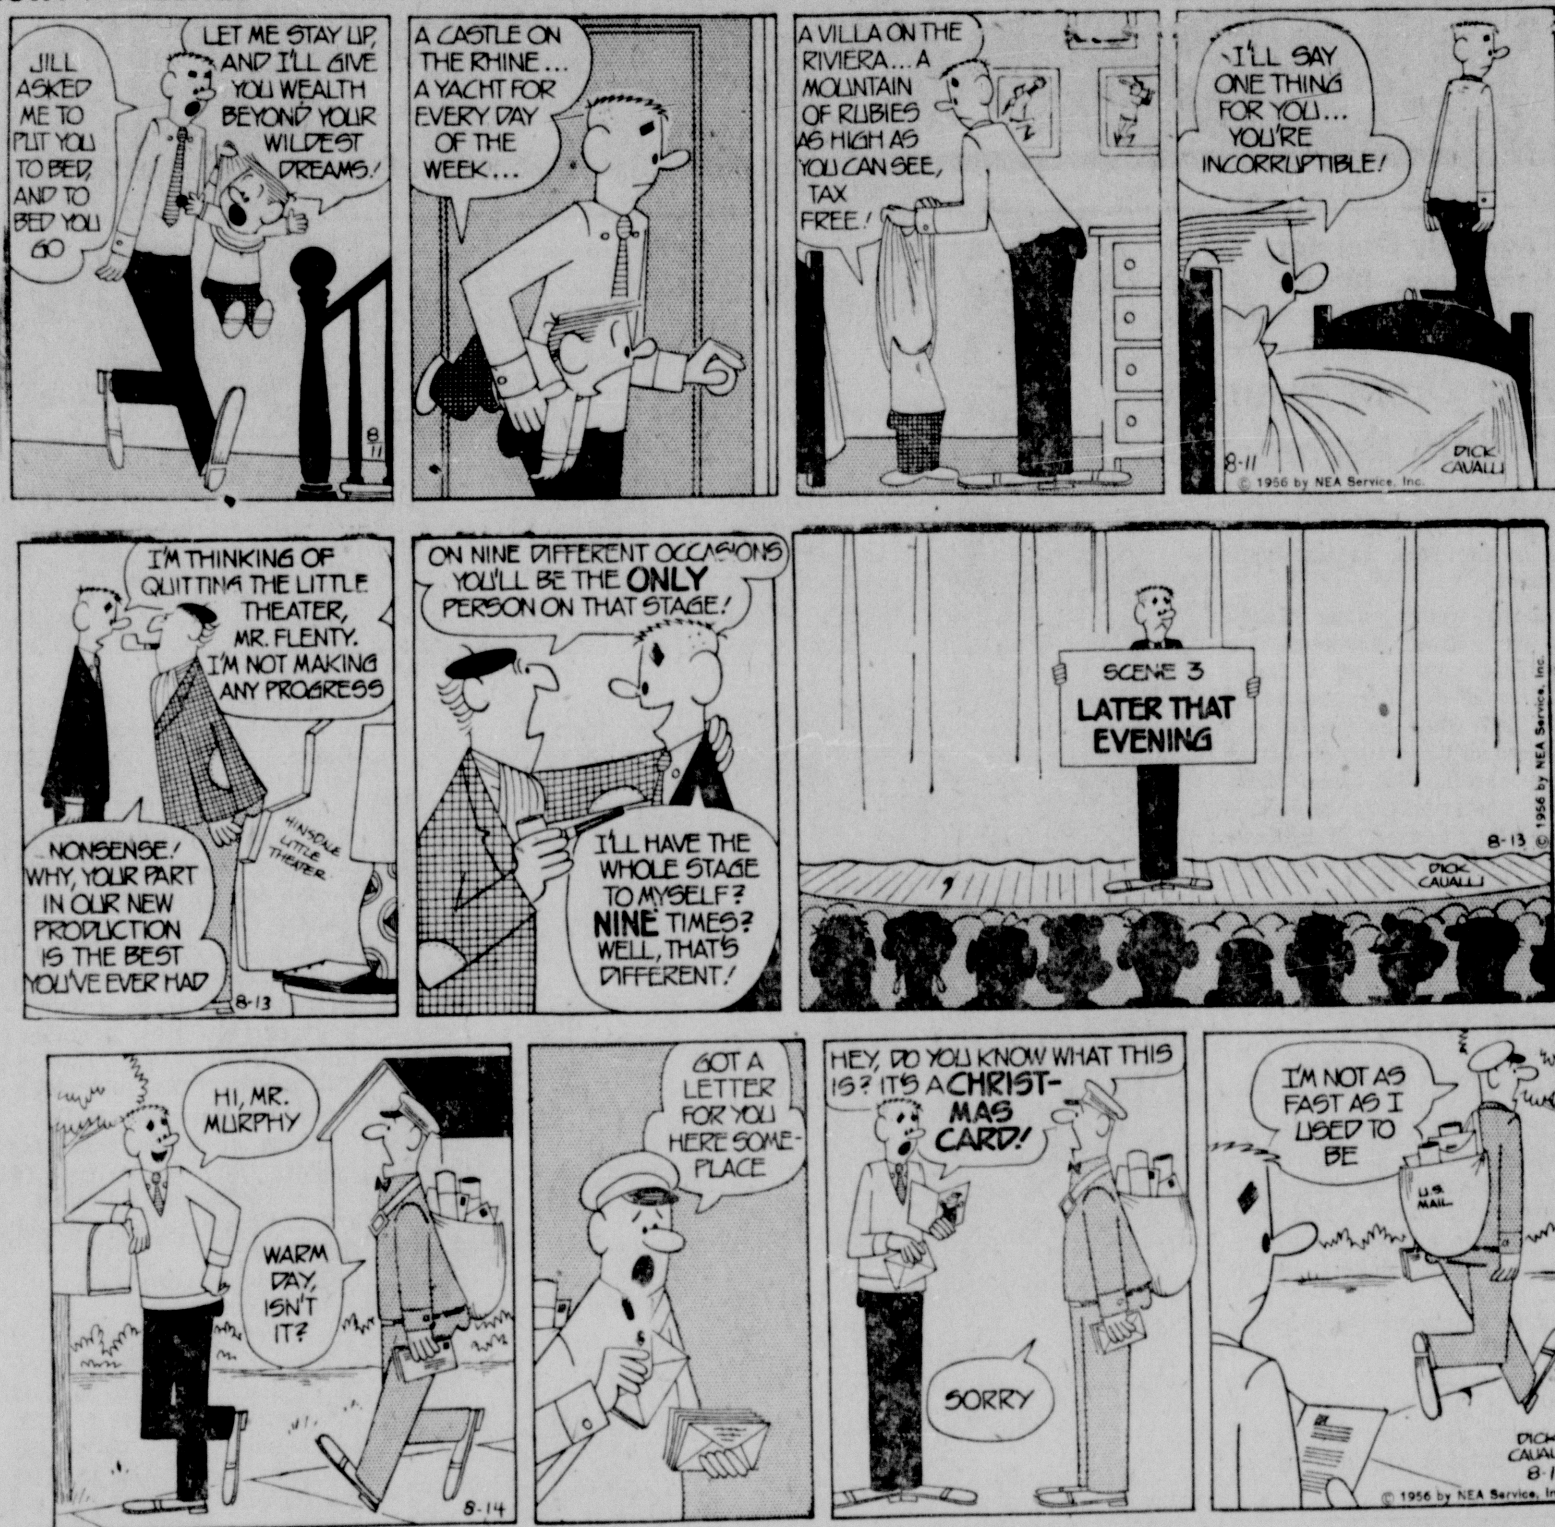

Officials said Mrs. Cannon signed a statement saying she killed her spouse with one blast of the gun, because he "slapped her around."

Her two boys, aged 7 and 9 years old, testified at the inquest Sunday that Mrs. Cannon took them to her car, went back into the house, and returned shortly. After driving here, they said, she told them that she had shot their father.

STORAGE ROOM NEEDED

A good investment for a kid away at school is a large, inexpensive trunk, foot locker or wooden packing box. Sheets, bedspreads, curtains and rugs that won't be needed until fall semester can be stored all summer in these.

Dean Cochran To Retire from Forestry Post

It was announced in Milwaukee today that H. Dean Cochran, regional forester of the North Central Region, will retire on October 31.

Cochran, who has held his position since 1954, is in charge of the administration of the fourteen National Forests of the Lake and Central States. He is also responsible for the forest fire control, farm forestry advisory service, reforestation, and numerous other region-wide programs of the Forest Service that are carried on cooperatively with the various state and private forestry organizations in the region.

Cochran was born in Keokuk, Iowa. After graduating from Illinois College in Jacksonville, and Colorado Agricultural College, he joined the Forest Service in Colorado in 1920. With numerous assignments in the Rocky Mountain area, he rose through the ranks to become assistant regional forester in Denver. Before coming to Milwaukee he was for a number of years Chief of the Forest Service's Division of Personnel Management at Washington, D. C.

Cochran is a senior member of the Society of American Foresters. He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Science degree by the Colorado Agricultural College in 1945, and in 1954 he received a superior service award from the Secretary of Agriculture. Upon retirement the Cochrans and their two boys will make their home in Port Republic, Maryland.

The new regional forester for the North Central Region will be Arthur W. Greeley, who is currently regional forester in Alaska. Greeley entered the Forest Service in 1935. Before going to his position in Alaska in 1953, Greeley served with the Forest Service in Idaho, Montana, California, Oregon, and Washington, and in the office of the Chief of the Forest Service in Washington, D. C. He is a graduate of the University of Washington and of Yale.
